an article written by her, that she was a listener in the Kansas legislature at the time said legislature voted to change the name of St. John county, to Logan county, and that the present Attorney General, Kellogg, was a member of the state senate, and took an active part in helping to change the name, etc. She also says that the late defeat of Kellogg was a righteous judgment in return for his senatorial conduct. To this we say amen. But do the managers of the Prohibition party in Kansas that withdrew their candidate for attorney general, in favor of Kellogg, deserve any credit for the righteous defeat of Kellogg? Again Mrs. Gouger says that prohibition will prohibit, not only as much, but a great deal more, under Ives, than under Kellogg, if such a thing can be. Now then, if this be the case, where does the credit come in, for the aforesaid managers, and the party that voted for Kellogg?-the man who worked and voted to change the name of a county, simply because it was named for a man that has a grander and a nobler principle than can be found in all the combines of robbers that Kellogg and his party are worshippinga man who has, and had, the moral courage to come out from among them, in the interest of the home, men, women and children of this nation.

J. H. Davis, of Center, Miss., writes:

Please send me your paper. Send terms to club-raisers. I think I can send you a list of subscribers. are Democrats here, and don't desire any third party—that is, if the peo-ple can get relief in either of the old parties. I don't know your attitude in regard to John J. Ingalls; but if you favor his re-election to the United States senate, with his past rec-erd, we will have none of your paper, Alliance or no Alliance.

We would say to Bro. Davis that the people of this country have tried both old parties for many years, and matters have grown worse each year for the past quarter of a century. For that reason we favor a third party. It is useless to fool away any more time on the old parties, for each year will find the fetters more tightly drawn about the debt-ridden people of our country. As to the re-election of John J. Ingalls, we can assure Mr. Davis that we are tired of our senior senator. We want something more than a clown to represent us in the senate, and propose to fight his reelection till "the last dog is hung."

INGALLS made another bloody-shirt speech in the senate, last Saturday. He then got a two-weeks' leave of absence, to come home and try to "work" the legislature, in the hope of securing a re-election. His leave of absence will do him no good. The farmers, and the balance of the great common people, are tired of the bloody shirt, and his last speech will certainly settle his hash.

THE leading Democratic papers do not seem to take much stock in Grover Cleveland's professed conversion Resides, he understands every detail to the free-coinage idea.

MRS. HELEN M. GOUGAR states, in The Price Rosewater Has Paid for the Saloon Support.

From the Kearney (Neb.) Courier. The Omaha Bee is not worthy of the support of any farmer or laborer in Nebraska, and word; should be passed along the line to drop it at once. Mr. Rosewater should be compelled to look for his support and patronage from the slums, dives, dead-falls, reeking pits, saloons and brothels of Omaha in the future. He is opposed to all decency, purity, morality, respectability and justice. To aid the saloons he betrayed the Republican party, as well as the people, and sold out Richards in the interest of a characterless patron of immorality, a man who does not houor and respect the chastity of womankind, and who does not regard the nome as sacred. By his policy in the late campaign, Edward Rosewater and the Omaha Bee have forfeited all title to respect, and his publications should find no place in the homes of those who believe in sobriety and morality.

Seeking Whom They May Devour.

The Eureka Union has been fur hished with the following list of questions sent out by the Republican state committee to supposed solid and trusted Republi-

Are you acquainted with the Ailiance representative from your county? What aged man is he?

How many has he in his family who depend on him for support? How much land has he?

How much in cultivation?

Bottom or upland? What amount of mortgage is on his

What amount of chattel mertgage? What are the prospects for payment of real estate mortgage?

Also prospects for paying chattel mort-Is he a man who could probably be easily influenced? And any other information you can furnish us

The Ingalis fixers can have but one motive in making these inquiries. That is bribery-the buying of votes to elect him to the senate. "Votes count, no matter how obtained," says Ingails. He expects to buy, and naturally wants competition, so he can buy at lowest prices, He expects the Alliance members to be penned up like donkeys in a corral, all eager to sell or be sold. The scoundrelism of this base business is beyond the power of Kansas expletives to fittingly describe-unless the one word, Ingallism, expresses it. -Oswego Statesman.

WE are in receipt of a copy of "A Tale on the World's Fair," by F. T. Neety, publisher, of Chicago. This book is a well-written imaginary description of the great fair to take place in 1893. It is equal to Ballamy's "Looking Backward." If you want something for a few evenings' recreation, send 25 cents and get a copy. Address, The Neely Pub. House, 323-325 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

E. H. Snow, of the Ottawa Journal, is a candidate for the office of state printer. Bro. Snow is an old-time reformer and kicker for the rights of the people, and he is certainly deserving of consideration at the hands of the representatives of the people. of the printing business.

The Boodlers.

BY R. J. BURDETTE.

"The boodiers' came down like the wolf on the fold, And scooped in the silver, and greenbacks and And scooped in the silver, and greenbacks and gold;
From the town on the lake to the town on the They raked in the 'boodle' from A unto Z.

The people were silly and stupid and green, And the 'boodlers' the checklest thieves ev In the street, in the office, by night and by They grabb d what they wanted and took it

"They laughed when the newspapers gave them a blast, and they winked in the face of the judge as be passed;

For they new while this land should be peo-pled with men.
That 'boodlers' who'd boodled would boodle again.

People put them in prison, but then all the Same,

Elected new boodlers to keep up the game;
From Tweed to McGarigie—who, but believes It's the fate of the land to be governed by thieves.

"Pickpockets and gamblers, threves, drunkards and toughs, Ex-convicts and sluggers, bartenders and rough."
Forgers, feuers and liars and confidence men, We've elected to office again and again.

"And we'll do it again; we'll let people see There's a chance for the theif in the land of the Long live St. Barrabas, a pledge let us borrow— To the health of good Sodom and righteous Gomerrah."

THE South Dakotas played a huge joke on tuemselves, Nov. 4th, which was a painful sort of a joke, too. Lhev voted on women suffrage and Indian suffrage. They defeated woman suffrage by a large majority, and gave the "nable red man" the right to vote. The "smoke of battle" (so to speak) had hardly cleared away before the Indians began making arrangments to kill off the pale-faces-possibly thinking that by so doing they could carry the elections to suis themselves. They were probably taking Ingalis' view of the case when he said, "It is lawful to deceive the adversary, to hire Hessians, to mutilate, to KILL, to DESTROY." Serious joke, that.

THE Republicans have scared up another man to take Ingalis' place, in the person of Ben Simpson. Why not nominate the Devil and be done with it?

The Pulpit and Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Bine Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to teil what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly dis-eased, and my parishioners thought I could only live a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Di covery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight.

Arthur Dove, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: 'After a thourough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident that Dr. King'- New Discovery for Consumption, beats and cures when everything else tail.. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands friends is to urge them to try it. Free trial bottles at Lathen's drug store. Regular sizes 50c, and $1 00

Specimen Cases

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Live was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and ne was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Buck len's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doc tors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Lathen's Drug Store.

Webster's Dictionary

Size, 8x10½ inches—4 inches thick, occupying a total space of 336 inches. I has 1456 pages.

We also Publish and Want Agents for

Webster's Encyclopædia

Of Useful Information & World's Atlas.

Size, 10x123\(\frac{1}{2}\) inches--23\(\frac{1}{2}\) inches thick, occupying a total space of 312 cubic inches, and contains 566 pages, 50 maps and 188 illustrations.

OGILVIE & GILLETT CO., 9 to 15 River St., CHICAGO, ILL.

"Hello! Tom. Giad to see you, our removal. It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down: let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife!"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual,—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Vell, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes: but I guess 'want will be my master.' I started to keep down expenses; and now Lil says I'n 'mean,' and she's tired of saving and never having anything to show for it. I saw your wife down street, and she looked as bappy as aqueen!"

"I think she is; and we are economical, too.—have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some dainty contrivance that adds to the comfort and beauty of our little home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I sak how she manages it, sie always lamphs and says:

'Oh! that's my secret!' But I think I've discovered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but she made one condition: she would have her Magazine. And she was right! I wouldn't do without it my-self for double the subscription price. We read it together, from the title-page to the last word: the stories keep our hearts young; the synopsis of important events and scientific matters keeps me poated so that I can talk understandingly of what is going on; my wife is always trying some new idea from the household department; she makes all her dresses and those for the children, and she gets all her patierns for nothing, with the Magazine; and we saved Joe when he was so sick with the croup, by doing just as directed in the Sanitarian Department. But I can't tell you half!"

"What wonderful Magazine, and—"

"What! Why that's what Lil wanted so had, and I tod her It was an extravance."

"Well, my friend, that's where you made a grand mistake, and one you'd better rectify as soon as you can. I'll take your 'seb,' right here, on my wife's accourt; she's bound to have a china to-set in time for our tim wedding next month. My gold watch w

ORGANIZE and unite for 1892.

Ix union there is strength.